DELEGATES ON WAY TO THE FRONT

Official Statement Issued at German Capital Says Delegation Goes "to Take Up Peace Negotiations"—Names of Members Given in Amsterdam Dispatch.

GERMANY MUST PAY HUGE INDEMNITY

So Informed in Note Sent by Lansing With Information That Foch Is Authorized to Give Terms in Detail.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 6.—An official statement issued here today says:

"A German delegation to conclude an armistice and take up peace negotiations has left for the western front."

By the Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 6.—G. E. G. W. von Gruenell, Germany's military delegate to the Hague peace conference, Gen. H. K. A. von Winterfeldt, formerly German military attaché in Paris, Vice Admiral Meurer and Admiral Paul von Hintze have been appointed members of a commission to deal with the allied powers on armistice conditions.

Official Statement Shows German Anxiety Over Arrival of Terms.

BASEL, Switzerland, Sunday, Nov. 3.—An official statement from Berlin, in announcing that the terms of the armistice for Germany had not arrived at the German capital up to today, adds:

"Whatever it may be, the message is awaited in Germany with calmness in conformity with our dignity. Truly there exists the right to ask how the delaying tactics of our adversaries can be reconciled with the speeches of the Entente's leaders, who recently reiterated that it would be a crime to prolong the bloodshed one hour longer than was absolutely indispensable."

Germany Must May "Enormous Indemnity."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Germany can have peace on the terms and principles enunciated by President Wilson, but it must pay an enormous indemnity for the wanton destruction wrought by its forces on land, on sea and in the air.

The German Government is so informed in a note from Secretary Lansing, now on its way to Berlin, and which also announces that Marshal Foch has been authorized by the Governments of the United States and the allies "to receive properly accredited representatives of the German Government and to communicate to them 'the terms of the armistice' under which hostilities can be brought to an end."

Secretary Lansing's note quotes a "memorandum of observations" by the allied Governments on the President's correspondence with the German authorities, in which those Governments "declare their willingness to make peace with the Government of Germany" in accord with the President's program subject to these qualifications:

Reservation to themselves of complete freedom of action in the peace conference on the question of the freedom of the seas, and of the specific understanding that, by restoration of invaded territories, is meant that compensation will be made by Germany for all damages done to the civilian populations of the allies and to property, for ships sunk by submarines and raiders and of indemnities to the families and dependents of civilians killed or

Man Slain in Front of Nugent's on St. Charles Street.

A negro was shot and killed by another negro on the St. Charles street side of the Nugent store, on Broadway, at 1:15 p. m. today.

The dead negro was identified by a registration card as Abraham Smith, and the negro who did the shooting was "Sunny" Haynes of 11 South Twenty-first street, employed in the Nugent store as a fireman.

When arrested Haynes said that the negro he killed had delivered a load of coal at the store and had threatened him with a pick, and that he fired in self-defense. Four bullets pierced Smith's chest.

Henry Ford Running Behind Newberry, but Detroit Vote Is Cutting Down Republican's Big Lead.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Safe majorities for the Republicans in both houses of Congress were claimed by the Republican National Committee on the basis of returns to headquarters at 10 o'clock this morning.

These returns, Secretary James B. Reynolds claimed, showed 50 Republican Senators and 230 Republican Representatives elected, with good prospects for larger majorities in both houses.

Republican headquarters issued a statement early in the afternoon claiming a majority of at least five and probably six in the U. S. Senate.

Americans Gain on Both Sides of the Meuse

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE MEUSE SECTOR, Nov. 5, 11 p. m.—The American forces have captured Liny-Devant-Dun and Milly-Devant-Dun, east of the Meuse River. They are also occupying the hills on the east bank of the river, despite a stiff machine-gun resistance by the Germans.

West of the Meuse the Americans have occupied Letanne, Stonne, La Besace and Yonon, and are pushing their line well beyond Raucourt Forest north of Stonne.

In Beaumont 500 French civilians were freed after four years' German occupation. The conditions of the armistice offered by the allies so harsh and considered them so dishonorable that he would not sign them, says a Vienna dispatch to the Berlin Tageblatt.

Our Flyers Bring Down 14 German Aircraft in Meuse Sector.

By the Associated Press. WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Nov. 5, 8 p. m.—More than three tons of bombs were dropped today on Mouson and Raucourt as enemy troops passed through the villages bound north. More than 120 bombing and pursuit planes participated in the attack.

Fourteen Fokkers were brought down and three American flyers are missing. The bombs caused fires in warehouses and barracks and consternation among the retreating Germans.

Aerial photographs show 36 shell and bomb holes in the railway yards at Conflans. The main line through Conflans was put out of commission at least temporarily, while all the tracks were damaged.

The Conflans railroad has been a regular target for American bombers and big guns recently, as the Germans were using this line to bring up troops which had been in the quiet sectors around Metz and in Lorraine.

One photograph shows a line of freight cars on a siding, but no activity. A week ago photographs of the same yards depicted them as

VIENNA SAID TO CLAIM ALLIES ARE NOT TO CROSS AUSTRIA

Reported Not to Interpret Terms as Giving Right to Attack Germany Through Dual Monarchy.

By the Associated Press. AMSTERDAM, Nov. 6.—Austria will protest against the interpretation of any clause in the armistice as meaning that enemy armies are entitled to attack Germany through Austria, according to advices from Vienna.

The armistice says expressly that the allies shall occupy such points in Austria-Hungary as they deem necessary to enable them to conduct military operations.

Superior Charles of Austria, according to a dispatch from Vienna, handed over the supreme command of the Austro-Hungarian army to Field Marshal Koevess on Nov. 2.

By the Associated Press. PENNSYLVANIA, Nov. 5.—Emperor Charles found the conditions of the armistice offered by the allies so harsh and considered them so dishonorable that he would not sign them, says a Vienna dispatch to the Berlin Tageblatt.

The conditions of the armistice were finally signed by Field Marshal Arz von Straussenburg, the Chief of Staff.

gained impetus today, according to the War Office announcement for tonight. The French troops cleared the enemy out of large sections of territory making an advance which at certain points reached a depth of more than six miles.

The important town of Guise was captured, as well as Marie, and a section of the road between Marie and Montcornet. Four thousand prisoners were taken and 60 cannon. The French pushed on six miles farther east.

The statement reads: "Along the whole French front from the Sambre Canal to the Argonne the retreat of the enemy continued during the day, reaching at certain points a depth of 10 kilometers."

"Because of the advantages gained by the difficult battle fought Sunday for the crossing of the Sambre Canal the first army completely defeated six German divisions which opposed it and took 4000 prisoners and 60 guns. In the first hour Guise was occupied and the advance continued without respite."

"At the end of today we had reached the outskirts of Barzy, Esquerdes, Lavuerre, Crupilly, Malzy, Romery, Weigne-Faty and Conlonay. Salma-Richamont and Housset, freeing in the recaptured villages numerous civilians."

"Further to the right we held Neuville-Housset, Marie and the Montcornet road as far east as Neuville-Bosmont, Ebuleau, Bucy-les-Pierrepont and Dizey-Le-Gros."

"In the region to the northwest of Chateau Porcien the severe fighting in the last few days has likewise, terminated in a general driving back of the Germans. Our line runs to the north of Valenpe and Hannogne and west of Chaudon and St. Perreux."

"Herpy, Conde-Les-Hery and Chateau Porcien are in our hands. We have gained a footing on the heights west of the road between Seraincourt and Eloy. Some of our elements succeeded in crossing the Aisne near Nanteuil."

"In the Argonne our troops have brilliantly carried out a surprise crossing of the Ardennes Canal and the Aisne near Montigny and Le Chêne. These two places have been passed considerably and we have reached the villages of Louvergny and Sauvilly, as well as the outskirts of Mont Dieu wood."

Haig's Report of Last Night on Success of His Armies.

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 5.—The British armies in the sector between the Sambre and the Scheldt have defeated in the battle which began Monday, 25 German divisions, field Marshal Haig reports from headquarters tonight. In addition to capturing many more villages today, the British have passed through the great Mormal Forest. The statement says:

"In the great battle opened by us yesterday between the Sambre and the Scheldt, the troops of the Fourth, Third and First British armies, composed chiefly of men from England, towns and counties, engaged heavily and defeated, with heavy loss in killed, wounded, prisoners, guns and material, no less than 25 German divisions."

"The German defense was thus broken on a front of 30 miles. Owing to this brilliant success, the enemy today is in retreat on the whole battle front."

"In spite of a heavy and continued rain, our troops have pressed the retreating enemy forces closely throughout the day, driving in the rear guard wherever they have sought to oppose our advance and taking a number of prisoners."

"Our troops have passed through Mormal Forest and have reached the general line of Barzy, Grand Fayt, Beaumont, west of Baval, Rolain and Fresnes."

"In the haste of his enforced withdrawal yesterday and today the enemy has abandoned complete quantities of material of every description."

Siege of Ghent Witnessed by Belgians' Green.

WITH THE ALLIED ARMIES IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Nov. 5.—Allied troops today began the siege of the City of Ghent, already surrounded virtually on three sides. The assault on the city was witnessed by Queen Elizabeth of Belgium and hundreds of her noncombatant subjects.

The allied lines this morning were about a mile and a half from Ghent, toward which the allied troops continued to press.

Belgian, French and American soldiers this afternoon had pushed up to the eastern outskirts of the beleaguered city, with comparatively light resistance from the enemy, who apparently has evacuated the place.

Text of Note to Germany on Armistice and Peace

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The text of Secretary Lansing's note, handed to the Swiss Minister, follows:

"I HAVE the honor to request you to transmit the following communication to the German Government:

"In my note of Oct. 23, 1918, I advised you that the President had transmitted his correspondence with the German authorities to the Governments with which the United States is associated as a belligerent, with the suggestion that if those Governments were disposed to accept peace upon the terms and principles indicated, their military advisers and the military advisers of the United States be asked to submit to the Governments associated against Germany the necessary terms of such an armistice as would fully protect the interests of the peoples involved and insure to the associated Governments the unrestricted power to safeguard and enforce the details of the peace to which the German Government had agreed, provided that such an armistice possible from the military point of view."

"The President is now in receipt of a memorandum of observations by the Allied Governments on this correspondence, which is as follows:

"The Allied Governments have given careful consideration to the correspondence which has passed between the President of the United States and the German Government. Subject to the qualifications which follow they declare their willingness to make peace with the Government of Germany on the terms of peace laid down in the President's address to Congress of January, 1918, and the principles of settlement announced in his subsequent address. They must point out, however, that clause 2 relating to what is usually described as the freedom of the seas is open to various interpretations, some of which they could not accept. They must, therefore, reserve to themselves complete freedom on this subject when they enter the peace conference."

"Further, in the conditions of peace laid down in his address to Congress of Jan. 8, 1918, the President declared that invaded territories must be restored as well as represented and freed. The Allied Governments feel that no doubt ought to be allowed to exist as to what this provision implies. By it they understand that compensation will be made by Germany for all damage done to the civilian population by the aggression of Germany by land, by sea and from the air."

"It is insisted by the President to say that he is in agreement with the interpretation set forth in the last paragraph of the memorandum above quoted. I am further instructed by the President to request you to notify the German Government that Marshal Foch has been authorized by the Government of the United States and the Allied Governments to receive properly accredited representatives of the German Government and to communicate to them the terms of an armistice."

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurance of my highest consideration."

"ROBERT LANSING."

Stirling Details of How Our Men Bridged the Crossed Meuse Under Fire.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE SEDAN FRONT, Nov. 6, 6 p. m.—The American army has thrown a formidable force across the Meuse to the east bank. The enemy resistance here broke to the point of demoralization, the Americans pushing northward toward Sedan.

The American casualties were very light, despite the opposition to the crossing of the river.

The work of throwing bridges across the Meuse began soon after dark last night. It was conducted under a withering fire from artillery and machine guns. The Americans succeeded in constructing four pontoon bridges at a point about two kilometers east of Bleulles, but lost one by artillery fire when the first bridge began to cross.

Over the other three bridges, brigade after brigade poured across until a formidable force had been assembled on the east bank.

All night long the troops continued crossing on the pontoons and some of them were still marching over as late as noon today.

On the west bank of the Meuse other troops pressed northward and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon had reached a point less than a kilometer from Sedan, across the river from the town.

The progress here was still continuing this afternoon.

At the last reports the troops which had taken Beaumont earlier in the day had captured some small hills in the woods in the neighborhood of the river. It was due to the smashing of the enemy line at the pivotal point of the main attack that the complete retirement was brought about. The chief effort on both sides were centered all day upon the river sector.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Nov. 5, 2:30 p. m.—The Franco-American operations west of the Meuse since Nov. 1 have shaken the German position and have forced German retreats. The Germans are still making a stout resistance without modifying the salient feature of the situation, which is that their armies are being practically cut off from direct communication with Metz. The main reliance of the Germans now is on the line of the Meuse, which they appear determined to defend, while west of the river their principal resistance is along the Ardennes Canal. French troops have reached this obstacle from Rilly-Aux-Oies, at the bend of the Aisne to the River Rhine. Here they have encountered sustained artillery, machine gun and musketry fire.

American Brings Down Three Enemy Planes in One Day.

Pershing's Report on Early Operations of His Men East of Meuse.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Troops of the American first army which today forced a crossing to the east bank of the Meuse at Briulles and Clerly Le Petit, are developing a new line on the heights between those places. Gen. Pershing reports in his communiqué for this morning, The west bank of the river as far north as Pouilly is now in American hands.

Germans Destroying Property in Retreat Northeast of the Meuse.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE SEDAN FRONT, Nov. 6.—In their retreat east of the Meuse, according to reports reaching American headquarters, the Germans are destroying property and cutting down trees along the roadways.

The highway from Sedan northward to Olizy-Sur-Chiers is blocked every few yards by trees across the road. The destruction begins just beyond Sedan and extends northeast and north from one to three miles.

As an indication of the plight of the retreating Germans it is known that on the little Western front the enemy has in reserve only one division which has been out of the battle one month, and four divisions which have been resting from two to four weeks. Two of the divisions are east of the Meuse.

The Germans, it is believed, have used all their reserves on the front opposite the Americans, the last enemy division in reserve on this sector having been thrown in in the desperate effort to stem the American advance.

"Civilians in Villages North of Sedan American Forces Have Taken."

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Nov. 5.—In a wireless message yesterday, addressed to the French and American commanders, the German command reminded the allies that there were many civilians in the villages north of the Franco-American front and suggested that the artillerymen be notified to this effect. None of the villages was named.

The message was signed by the German Field Commander.

Berlin Report of American Advance Yesterday East of Meuse.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 6.—American troops yesterday advanced across the River Meuse south of Dun under a violent protective fire, and penetrated the woods and heights on the east bank of the river between Milly and Vilosnes, the German General Staff announced today.

It was pointed out today that the Lokai Anzeiger did not mention the advance of the Prussian Social Democrats, who are said to favor abdication. It also was regarded here as certain that the Lokai Anzeiger was incorrect in saying that nearly all the Socialists of Southern Germany wish to remove the charge for the Munich Post, the Mannheim Volksfreund and the Chemnitz Volkszeitung have demanded his abdication.

In some quarters it is pointed out today that the resolution, should its contents become known in Germany, probably will have a widespread effect on the civil population of that country.

GERMAN PEOPLE TOLD THEY ARE TO RULE

Manifesto Issued by Chancellor; Abdication of Kaiser Still Moot Question in Empire.

By the Associated Press.

ZURICH, Nov. 6.—Emperor Wilhelm's abdication has become imminent, according to information received from Berlin by the Munich Post. The newspaper says that serious differences have arisen between the Munich and Berlin governments, and adds:

"The Hohenzollern and the military party would be making a mistake to play with fire, for the people are by no means inclined to remain passive."

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Tuesday, Nov. 5.—The Berlin Government has issued a manifesto, signed by the Imperial Chancellor, Prince Max, the Vice Chancellor, Friedrich von Payer, and the Secretaries of State, appealing to the people to bear their hardships and assuring them that resolute action is being taken for the restoration of the future of Germany to a popular state which will be behind no state in the world in liberty and social progress.

"The Government and chiefs of the army and navy desire an early peace," continues the manifesto. "Until that is attained we must protect our frontiers from invasion."

"Men and women of Germany: The state and empire are our common future. Your confidence, which is indispensable to us in the hour of danger, is really but the confidence of the German people in itself, in its future and in the future of Germany. That aim we have before our eyes. We must already begin to work for happier times to which the German nation has a right."

"The German Government is engaged in this work. Important work has already been done. Equal suffrage in Prussia is already assured. The new Government has been formed of representatives of the majorities in the Reichstag and the Imperial Chancellor in their retreat east of the Meuse, according to reports reaching American headquarters, the Germans are destroying property and cutting down trees along the roadways."

THE BEST COUGH SYRUP IS HOME-MADE

Here's an easy way to save $2.00, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heats the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COUNCIL'S ACCORD ON TERMS RELEASES HOUSE

American Member Congratulated Upon Agreements Reached in Wilson Program.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—E. M. House has been the recipient of numerous congratulations over the agreement reached by the inter-allied conference of the Senate and the House of Representatives before it, notably the armistice terms for Germany and the peace conditions.

Mr. House himself has indicated his satisfaction at the results of the deliberations of the conference. He is resting today after his arduous labors in connection with the conferences of the last 10 days, which, in addition to the formal sessions, included prolonged informal consultations both by day and night.

Mrs. House he will dine tomorrow at the Elysee Palace on invitation of President and Mme. Poincaré.

The completeness of the accord reached upon most points by the conferees caused gratification and even some surprise among the partisans. Unofficial comment tended to give rise to the impression that the third and fifth points of President Wilson's peace program might lead to discussion, but it developed that these were included among those upon which an agreement was reached, leaving only the second point subject to some revision.

All the nations having colonial interests, including M. Mataul, the Japanese Ambassador, were represented during the discussion of the third point, dealing with the adjustment of colonial claims, upon which an accord likewise was reached. There was a similar representation when the future of the League of Nations was discussed, the third point, declaring for the treaty, so far as possible, of all economic barriers.

Freedom of the Seas.

The accord reached on all other points important to the world without much difficulty, with the exception of the second, dealing with the freedom of the seas. On this there appeared to be a substantial agreement, but the general principle, although the terms are subject to further discussion and revision, with a view to avoiding misunderstandings and making them conform with the general desires of all concerned.

The American note to Germany sent by Secretary Lansing yesterday showed that the allied Governments, in declaring their willingness to make peace with Germany on the basis of President Wilson's terms, reserved freedom of action upon clause 2 of the President's program, dealing with the freedom of the seas.

carried off in violation of the recognized rules of warfare.

Terms of the armistice may not be made public until their acceptance is declared by Germany, but it can be stated authoritatively that they are no less drastic than those imposed upon Austria.

Germany's spokesmen already have expressed in the press their principles as laid down by President Wilson. By accepting the armistice they agree in advance to the qualifications made by the allies, and consequently, much of the real work of the peace conference will have been completed in advance. There will remain the application of the President's program and decision as to the freedom of the seas, but the terms of the armistice will leave no room for doubt of the ability of the allied and American Governments to impose their terms.

While awaiting the approach of the crisis, the Imperial German military men here believe, has opened the decisive battle of the war. His immediate objective is the rout or destruction of the German army holding a stretch of more than 200 miles of battle lines in the very center of the front in France. It is from this menace that the Germans are seeking to escape in the great retreat reported last night from London.

Alsace-Lorraine is not mentioned in the allied memorandum. The Entente Governments know, however, and it is assumed that the Germans understand that the "right of the wrong" done to France, President Wilson meant, in the terms accepted by Germany, the return of the lost provinces to France.

The Mason & Hamlin

is the only device which permanently maintains the sounding-board arch, upon which the tone of a Piano principally depends.

It gives to the Mason & Hamlin Piano extraordinary beauty of tone, together with a hitherto unknown responsiveness and a permanence of tone quality never before approached.

It is not found, and, being patented, cannot be used in any other Piano.

Let us show you the Mason & Hamlin "Tension Resonator."

LEONARD EAR OIL

Restores Hearing, Stops Head Noises

Nine out of ten cases of Deafness and Head Noises are caused by catarrhal mucus (matter) in the Eustachian Tube, which connects the nose and the ears. Leonard Ear Oil removes the mucus, opens up the tube and the other air passages of the head, and the result is improved hearing and relief from Head Noises. It is not put in the ears, but is "Rubbed in Back of Ears" and inserted in the nostrils and throat.

Springfield, Mass. "I am a night operator—was all run-down, couldn't sleep, had no ambition, all tired out—I had tried blood and nerve tonics without help—and thought I would try Vinol and I must say it has built me up so I feel better, look better and sleep better."—Charles T. Harder.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally that even the most fastidious person, breath offensive, and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store and eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced? You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or sicken like salts, pills and colic. They act so gently that you hardly realize you have taken a cathartic. Mothers should give croup, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascaret any time—they act thoroughly and are harmless.—ADV.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—ADV.

AFTER all has been said and done about wartime changes in fashions and conditions—the shortage of wool, the soaring of prices, the patriotic ideas about what women shall wear—a woman will insist on style, and will choose according to her war-time income—or her war-time idea of sensible economy.

AND here's a sale that brings her a Suit in the style of her heart's desire, and at a price in harmony with both her war-time income and her war-time idea of economy.

THE manufacturer said, after selling us the Suits, that it was a good thing (for HIM) that there were not a thousand Suits, instead of only 300, the price at which he sold them to us was so painfully small.

But they're our Suits now and we want to sell them all in one day, and we're pricing them at the smallest possible margin of profit.

REPUBLICANS CARRY COUNTY BY ABOUT 4700

Spencer Gets a Plurality of 5258—Vote on Dry Amendment 3 to 1 Against.

Returns from 54 of the 55 precincts in St. Louis County show the entire Republican ticket to have been elected by a majority of approximately 4700. The total vote was approximately 13,250, compared to about 20,000 in the last presidential election.

Selden P. Spencer ran ahead of the ticket for United States Senator and Frederick Essen ran about 500 behind for the short term in Congress. An official count is in from all precincts on United States Senator and shows Spencer 9474 and Folk, 4216, a plurality of 5258 for Spencer.

Three to One Against Prohibition. The vote on the prohibition amendment was about three to one against the amendment.

Other results follow: For Supreme Court Judge: Neville, 5170; Graves, 4804.

For Congress, long term: Newton, 5235; Read, 4612; short term, Essen, 5892; Read, 4797.

For Superintendent of Schools: Baker, 9311; Lamkin, 4547.

The results in 54 out of 55 precincts for county offices show:

For Presiding Judge, County Court—John Wiethaupt, 9338; Robert A. Schwing, 4443.

For Associate Judge, First District (complete)—William Buermann, 5889; Joseph Pondrom, 4583.

For Associate Judge, Second District—J. W. Shields, 3560; Samuel A. Stuart, 1149.

For County Clerk—William Seibel, 9291; Arthur E. Johnson, 4682.

For Recorder of Deeds—Otto J. Preiss, 9299; William Tegethoff, 4528.

For Probate Judge—Samuel Hodgson (unopposed), 9628.

Prosecuting Attorney: Richard P. Ralph, 9480; Roy Schooley, 4551.

Circuit Clerk: A. D. Willecken, 5237; Edward Tiffen, 4531.

For Collector: Albert A. Wilmas, 9316; William C. Schramm, 4468.

Representative, Second District: George F. Hice, 3251; R. M. Hanks, 1158.

Representative, First District (result complete): W. W. Henderson, Bridgeton, 5739; Dillard Jones, 3473.

St. Charles County Republican and Wet by Big Margin.

The entire Republican ticket won in St. Charles County. A normal vote was polled. In the senatorial race 22 out of 32 precincts in the county gave Spencer 2385 votes, and Folk 784.

For Congress, Dyer received 2048 votes, Clark 1100.

Indications are that all the constitutional amendments were defeated, amendment No. 6 (prohibition) being overwhelmingly beaten.

MCCORMICK DEFEATS LEWIS IN ILLINOIS

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Medill McCormick, present Congressman-at-large, was elected United States Senator yesterday by a plurality from 50,000 to 60,000.

Returns this morning from 2392 precincts out of 2400 Illinois outside of Cook County gave McCormick 236,162 and Senator James Hamilton Lewis 161,612.

In Chicago and Cook County Lewis had a plurality of something like 53,000 from available returns.

Returns for Congressman at large from 1547 precincts out of 3200 in Illinois, outside of Cook County, indicate the election of Yates and Mason, the Republican candidates.

The vote was: Yates, 144,728; Mason, 137,599; Williams, 58,278; Cleary, 84,260.

The Republican nominees for State Treasurer, Fred E. Sterling of Rockford, and for Superintendent of Public Instruction, Francis C. Elms of Springfield, seemed almost certain of election.

In the congressional districts there were close contests in the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Twenty-first and Twenty-second districts. In each case, Republican incumbents seemed in danger of losing their seats in the lower House of Congress.

Good Roads Carries. The three propositions on the "Little Ballot," for a constitutional convention, a good roads bond issue and an amendment bringing private banks under the jurisdiction of the State authorities, all received large affirmative pluralities. This was especially true on good roads.

The following have been elected to Congress: Joseph G. Cannon (Rep.), William B. McKinley (Rep.), Henry T. Rainey (Dem.), M. D. Foster (Dem.), Frank L. Smith (Rep.), Ira C. Copley (Rep.), Charles E. Fuller (Rep.), John C. McKenzie (Rep.) and William J. J. Graham (Rep.).

Delay in the proper treatment of skin troubles is dangerous. Every day spent in trying unproved remedies may only let the disorder spread and become more and more deeply seated. The value of Resinol Ointment is known. For over twenty years it has been used as a soothing, healing remedy for the skin.

If applied in time, it usually checks the itching and reduces the eruption right away. But even in stubborn, long-standing cases, it is surprising, how quickly this gentle, yet effective ointment brings results. All druggists sell Resinol Ointment. He was born near Hartsville, Wright County, Mo., Sept. 3, 1873, and was educated at Drury College, Springfield, Mo., and in the law school of the Missouri State University, where he was graduated in 1902.

While at school he represented Drury College in the Missouri State oratorical contest in 1900, winning second prize, and he led the Missouri team in the Missouri-Kansas debate in 1901. He won the Stephens medal for oratory, open to all Missouri State University seniors, in 1902.

Served in Legislature. In the election of 1902, shortly after his graduation, he was chosen as representative of Wright County in the State Legislature and he was re-elected in 1904 and was made chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the lower House.

In July, 1905, he resigned to become Assistant United States District Attorney for the western district of Missouri. He was appointed Assistant Circuit Attorney of St. Louis in January, 1907, and special assistant to the Attorney-General for the prosecution of Federal cases in St. Louis in January, 1911. He resigned from this position in July, 1912, to engage in general law practice in St. Louis. ITALIAN LINE WHEN BATTLE CEASED INDICATED BY ROME Region West of Adige Rapidly Taken; Trent Made Army Headquarters Monday.

By the Associated Press. ROME, Nov. 6.—Dealing with the military operations leading up to the closing hours of the war on the Italian front, the official statement issued today shows that the Italian troops swept far northward into the mountains of Trentino. The statement reads: "The Seventh Army rapidly took the region west of the Adige and became master of Passodella Mendola. It pushed patrols along the river in the direction of Bolzano. The First Army occupied the Monticello, dominating the confluence of the Adige and the Noce. At 3 o'clock Monday afternoon army headquarters were at Trent."

"On the remainder of the front the enemy was driven well into the mountains. "In the plains our cavalry threw into a panic large marching units of the enemy and encircling them, compelled them to lay down their arms."

Many are finding relief from Influenza, Colds, Sore Throat, and perhaps preventing pneumonia, it is said, by the use of Miller's Antiseptic Oil (known as Snake Oil). The oil penetrates through to the affected parts and tends to open up the air passages, making breathing more easy, relieving the pains. EXPRESS COMPANY MUST CARRY LIQUOR INTO DRY TERRITORY

Court Issues Order in Compliance With Ruling Made Pending Case on Appeal.

Circuit Judge Kline today issued an order against the American Railway Express Co., requiring it to accept liquor for shipment into local option territories. The order was made at the request of the Edwin Schiele Distilling Co., doing business as the Maycliffe Distributing Co.

The plaintiff alleged that on Oct. 13 and at other times the express company had refused to accept consignments of liquor which had been ordered and paid for by customers of the plaintiff living in local option communities.

A similar order was made a week ago in the Circuit Court for another liquor concern. The question of shipping liquor into dry territory is up in the Missouri Supreme Court, and that tribunal has decided that, while the case is pending, shipments may be made. The Supreme Court's decision in the case is not expected to be delivered before two years from now.

175 in City Sanitarium. Many of Which Should Have Been in Earlier Reports.

There were 594 new influenza cases reported today, as compared to 322 cases reported at the same time yesterday. Of the new cases, 175 were reported at the city sanitarium, and dates on the cards indicated many of these should have been reported yesterday and Monday. The total number of cases reported since the disease appeared is 11,481.

Deaths from influenza reported since 11 a. m. yesterday, totaled 20, while 11 died from pneumonia. This makes a total of 564 deaths from influenza and 272 from pneumonia since the beginning of the epidemic.

50 NURSES' AIDS NEEDED

Surgeon-General Blue of the United States Army has called upon the Red Cross for 50 nurses' aids from St. Louis, between the ages of 25 and 45, for immediate service overseas. They receive $30 a month and traveling and maintenance expenses. Women volunteering for the course as nurses' aids will receive training at the Barnes, St. Luke's, City, Jewish, Missouri Baptist and St. John's hospitals.

Women over 35 years of age will be assigned to foreign service immediately upon completion of the training course. Those under 35 may enroll for special service with the Red Cross at present and will probably be used in the military hospitals at a later date. Application should be made to Mrs. Stanley Stoner at the St. Louis Chapter, 1904 Frisco Building.

'MILE OF SMILES' FOR SIBERIA

Household Economy Is One Take the sugar subject for instance:

WASTE OF SUGAR

THE following bulletin was among the most forceful and effective bits of conservation propaganda at the New York Food Show last month. It was put out by the National Sugar Refining Company of New Jersey:

"Save the waste!"

"One hundred million cups coffee used daily in United States."

"Seventy million cups tea used daily in United States."

"One hundred and seventy million cups tea and coffee."

"If even an average of half a teaspoonful of sugar per cup is left undissolved at the bottom of cups of tea and coffee the waste would be 1,700,000 pounds of sugar daily."

"Stir your sugar until it dissolves. It's estimated that one-third to one-half of all sugars used in homes is used in tea and coffee. Think it over—how is it in your home? Isn't there a chance for saving?"

MERCANTILE CLUB'S DOORS ARE CLOSED

Action Taken Because of Inability to Pay Union Electric $7000 for Service.

The Mercantile Club, Seventh and Locust streets, was closed yesterday at 2:30 p. m., when the Union Electric Light and Power Co. shut off light and heat because the club owed about $7000 for service and had been unable to fulfill its promises to pay.

W. E. Bilheimer discharged the club's 120 employees, at the same time calling a meeting of the Board of Directors for 12:30 p. m. today at the club to consider means of satisfying the Union Electric demands. The club has a membership of about 800, of whom 300 are in the service, and is the oldest institution of its kind in St. Louis, having been established in the early '80s.

Bilheimer said the club had paid the light company about $10,500 this year, including $2500 on its old account. "The club owns the building and leasehold," Bilheimer said, "which we value at almost double our $400,000 bonded and $75,000 floating indebtedness. A plan for consolidation with the City Club has been under way and, if effected, would have made up in membership the men we have lost who have entered the service. If given more time, we surely would have weathered our financial difficulty."

THE POST-DISPATCH PLAT-FORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

JOSEPH PULITZER.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Increase in St. Louis Colored Population.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Your paper is the fearless champion of the rights and interests of all, regardless of race or nationality, and so I trust you will publish this even though you may disagree with its conclusions. In today's issue you call attention to the fact that the negro registration in the Twelfth Congressional District was $102 in 1916, and 12,116 in 1918, and you are surprised at the increase. The enrollment in the city public schools for negroes for the year ending June 30, 1916, was 7,593, for the year ending June 30, 1917, was 8,450, and for the year ending June 30, 1918, was 10,675, and that, too, when the newcomers were mostly without families. Nearly all of them settled in the Twelfth District, because the east end of it is in the heart of the colored rent district. The abnormal increase in population is not only evident in our schools, but also in our churches and other organizations.

The charge of over-registration was made against the negro, and, at the outset, assumed to be true, and it would seem that the investigators attempted to sustain that assumption rather than to get at the truth. Many of the charges have already fallen through, and a well-informed, impartial investigator, along with the officers of the law could probably explain away the vacant lot and vacant house registrations, and other seeming irregularities. The writer knows that at the general election in 1916 many of our best colored citizens were challenged at the polls and charged with crimes that others having like or similar names had been convicted of; and the late investigation has the earmarks of a scheme to intimidate the colored voters. This is not written for partisan purposes, but in vindication of the negro as a citizen. BLACK MAN.

The Call of Home Charities.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
We have sent out the following appeal to the managers of the charitable organizations of St. Louis, for public distribution:

To the St. Louis public:
St. Louis has responded splendidly in its support of war charities and in every thing looking to winning the war. But we expected nothing else, for she has always been in the front ranks of the great American cities.

But the people of St. Louis have another problem to face, and they are going to respond to the call just as nobly and generously—the call of home charities.

On the approach of the winter months the cry of the poor, sick, the aged and the thousands of helpless orphan children comes to us in increased volume. Organizations established to care for the needy are finding that increased prices are making heavy inroads on their finances. They need greater gifts than ever before.

The heavy demand for the support of war charities has caused some former subscribers to local charities to cancel subscriptions. This means that some of us must increase our former subscriptions because we realize fully that home charities must not be allowed to suffer.

When you are able to give free postage to a home charity, give freely to the proved charities. Double your previous subscription.

Write or telephone the Charities Bureau if you have any doubt about the worthiness of an agency seeking contribution. Respectfully yours,
CHARITIES COMMITTEE, ST. LOUIS
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
GEORGE D. MARKHAM, Chairman.
JOHN SCHMIDT, Director.
SCOTT R. DE KINS, Secretary.

Mail Rates for Soldiers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Why do our soldiers, who are suffering death and agonies of hardships to save our country and the world from destruction, have to pay 3 cents for each letter they send home while our Congressmen are allowed to send millions of letters free? Is that fair? Why shouldn't our valiant defenders receive free postage as well as our Congressmen? This should be corrected. THREE STARS.

Street Names to Honor France.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
It is suggested that in renaming some of our streets, now bearing German names, that we pay France, who has remained at least two of her streets in Paris in honor of America, the same compliment by using French names for our streets. For example, why would it not be a good idea to name Etzel avenue, Argonne avenue. This would not alone be complimentary to our brave ally, but it would also remind us of the battle of Argonne Forest, in which our own St. Louis boys (138th Infantry and 128th Field Artillery) covered themselves with undying glory.

Aside from the above reasons it would still seem the proper thing to do inasmuch as the early history of St. Louis is closely associated with the French nation, and it would help to perpetuate the kindly feeling that St. Louisans have always entertained for the French people.

H. M.

THE POPULAR REACTION.

Undoubtedly the people believed that the next Congress would be a peace Congress and were inclined to put a check on the power of the Wilson administration for the settlement of after-the-war problems.

It is too early for intelligent analysis of the returns, but the Republican majority in Congress, despite the President's appeal, is evidence of a decided reaction under the burdens of war and the problems of peace from one-man leadership and the powerful war bureaucracy.

No one at home or abroad believes that if the war is going on when the next Congress meets there will be in the Republican Congress any relaxation of war purpose or activity.

The war interests of the country will be safe in Republican hands.

We indulge the hope that with responsibility for congressional action the Republicans will be guided by wisdom and will co-operate with the President in all the vital points of a just peace settlement to which we are pledged and will aid in finding sound solutions of the great domestic questions that will confront us.

They will have the benefit of the broad vision and the sound judgment of Mr. Wilson.

We know why the Democrats lost one seat in the Senate. The city and State returns prove beyond question that Joseph W. Folk is one of the most unpopular candidates that has run for high office in Missouri. He was defeated by an overwhelming revolt of Democratic voters.

There is some consolation in the apparent defeat of three Democratic congressional candidates in the State outside of St. Louis. Representative Decker got the swatting he deserved and Speaker Clark was rebuked for his several follies.

In the city the sweeping success of all Republican candidates, good and bad, is due largely to the insolvent condition of the Democratic organization. The difference between the Republican organization and the Democratic organization is the difference between a prosperous, going concern and a bankrupt junk shop.

In Tacitus' early account of the German peoples, he said: "The gods have denied them gold; whether in mercy or wrath, I have not been able to determine." From the results of their effort to reform the divine ordinance, it looks like wrath.

THE TIME BETWEEN ARMISTICES.

The armistice with Bulgaria was signed the last day of September. The armistice with Turkey was signed the last day of October. The armistice with Austria-Hungary was signed Nov. 4. The time between the armistices is rapidly diminishing. Germany has the chance to get in by a date that will still leave us plenty of time to get ready for the proper sort of Thanksgiving day in this year when so many of the world's dreams have come true.

"Good-by, Joe," was a prophetic poster.

THE WHITE HOUSE TYPEWRITER

We had been at war with Austria a little more than 11 months. The declaration against Germany came on April 6, but that against Austria did not come until Dec. 7.

Both before and after the latter date statements of the aims with which the allies fought were framed by Mr. Wilson with a particular view to the situation in both Austria and Hungary. How wise, how effective; how contributory to the final triumphant result the course of the President has been is very apparent even at America's distance from the borders of our southern enemy. It will be still more apparent when the history of these 11 months is written from within the lines of that enemy.

Political as well as economic causes are paramount in explaining the collapse at Vienna and Budapest while yet they had great forces in the field, well equipped, and before those forces had been driven back to the line they held successfully prior to Oct. 24, 1917. In merging the fighting strength of the diverse and antagonistic races of the empire, the rigors of military law had only slight reinforcement in a slender band of common national interests and prejudices. This slender bond ceased to exist, became, indeed, a repellent force, in the face of the President's war definitions promising realization for these different peoples' racial ideals and constructive plans. Old incentives ceased to have force. New ones were substituted. The changed views and hopes of the population at home were communicated to their soldier representatives in the ranks. Who can deny that they facilitated vastly the task which Italian bravery executed in the past two weeks?

The cheers for Wilson in the streets of towns throughout Austria-Hungary are something to which historians will devote extended explanations. When, before, has a great war ended with the enemy applauding the executive of their most powerful adversary? Abusive criticism was long directed at the President because we did not declare war on Bulgaria. Is it nothing that Bulgaria was the first of all the 31 warring Powers on the two sides to sue for peace? There was like criticism as to Turkey. But Turkey became the second to fall in the row of bricks whose speedy toppling was made certain when the first fell. The vindication of the presidential course and viewpoints in the cases of three of the Central Allies is extraordinary, memorable. It will have further vindication in the case of Germany.

The typewriter, despite ill-natured sneers, has done an execution not inferior to that of the vaunted machine gun.

A great demonstration was held Sunday at the Bismarck monument in Berlin, the participants demanding more war. Fortunately the allies have made arrangements for giving them all the war they can handle.

Wild celebrations of peace continued all Monday night in Rome, causing scenes in the ancient city that have been witnessed few times since the classical era. But with motives more complex, though still easily grasped, Vienna celebrated as wildly the peace that brought it defeat.

The wonderful advances by the allied troops in the last few days will make it impossible for the Germans to impute their complete surrender to anything else than military necessity.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

THE SPECTER OF STRAFFORD'S "THOROUGH"

From the Kansas City Star.
WE all quote a certain inflexibility of purpose in the English attitude toward peace and we think we know the reason. The English see in this thing that is passing to its death in Germany a power they themselves met in arms in their own island near 300 years ago and refused to compromise with. They are refusing to compromise with it in Germany, for they know that what it exists anywhere in the world there is no safety for them or for any other free people.

We must recognize this German thing we call Kaiserism for what it is, an actual and, until this hour, a very lively and determined survival of what the English people struck down in the seventeenth century. Starting but true. Nearly three centuries late in going, Kaiserism in Germany is only now, tardily taking the road that Englishmen set Charles' system of "Thorough" upon when they took up arms against their King in 1642.

Charles' system of "Thorough" a word applied to it by his Minister, Strafford, who was its author, would have made England what Bismarck's system of "blood and iron" made Germany. "Thorough" meant complete, all-the-way absolutism. Its purpose, as Strafford himself admitted, was to make Charles in England all that Louis XIV was in France. The crown was to govern as well as rule; the crown was to raise taxes without warrant of law, the crown was to imprison subjects without making a pretense against them before a jury. If Charles and Strafford could have accomplished those three things, "Thorough" would have been a fact and England would have been in the seventeenth century what Germany is in the twentieth. Does it seem remarkable that the seventeenth century Englishman opposed and defeated at the start a tyrant who was somebody on earth to turn to. They have Allah, of course; but they say it is further from Turkey to Heaven than it used to be. Wilson for the Turks. They can get Wilson on the cable.

We have known all the time that misuse of the apostrophe would sometime lead to disaster; and we are not therefore surprised to find reference in Answers to "Flanders' Fields." Flanders thus becomes a landowner of that historic region, and it was of his fields that the poet so splendidly sang. Possibly people who have never taken seriously our battle for the apostrophe in its proper place will care nothing about this nor see in it any ultimate danger to light and learning. JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH by Clark McDougall

THE BALLAD OF KINGS.

KING WILLIAM is as good as done. And all his men are on the run. They say he knows his end is close, And therefore cries, "Gott, was ich los!" King Charles is down and counted out. With probably his throne in doubt. Upon his face the message is: "Don't laugh. Just wait till Bill gets his!"

King Ferdinand is king no more. Nor rules beside the Danube's shore. The Bulgars cannot him, even so, Upon the eighteenth ultimo.

King Albert, still among his men. At last is going home again. He ought to make it by the first Unless conditions are reversed.

King George says nothing on the whole. Though doubtless is a happy soul. There may be things that could be said— But 'sh! King George is Mary-ed.

PEACE.

VIENNA, Nov. 5.—Vienna is wild with joy over peace. The celebration which began on yesterday became a riotous demonstration today. The press tries to warn the people that peace has cost them dearly, but about all they can think of is that they have it and they asked Wilson to get it for them. The price doesn't matter.

Rome, Nov. 5.—The celebration of peace here is the most remarkable outburst in the history of the Italian people. Rome has not seen anything like it since the Caesars. There was wine opened in Rome last night of a sort that has not been opened since Horace lived here. It was a Wilson demonstration.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 5.—Turkey is celebrating peace in the Mohammedan manner—that is, quietly and soberly. Allah for taking the British off her. This is not the sort of emotion that causes the Turk to yell or shoot off anything. He always gets licked, and always gets peace. It is a costly peace; but it is peace. The Sultan has given his harem Wednesday off. The Turks are all crazy about Wilson. They say he is somebody on earth to turn to. They have Allah, of course; but they say it is further from Turkey to Heaven than it used to be. Wilson for the Turks. They can get Wilson on the cable.

OUR BERLIN LETTER.

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—Dr. Liebknecht, who was released from prison a few days ago, gave a Socialist speech on the lawn at Potsdam last night. The place was brilliantly illuminated with Chinese lanterns and all the Socialists attended. The Kaiser appeared on a balcony of the royal palace during the evening and made a Socialist speech. He said he believed in Socialism, and hoped it would do well. Someone asked him why, that being so, he had permitted Dr. Liebknecht to lie four years in prison. He answered that this had been a mistake, the Government having assumed at the outset that the German Socialists, who had said they were against war, would stick to their guns. After the Kaiser said this, one could have heard a leaf fall from a tree all over the garden. Everybody who could get a bush between himself and the light left for home at once, and within thirty minutes the place was deserted.

Talk of turning former Admiral von Tirpitz over to the allies to be tried for piracy was so alarmed the old gentleman that he has disappeared from Berlin. A guard was set over his home, but he escaped the back way by slipping his whiskers around a radiator and thus lowering himself from the second floor.

The German wags are saying that the watch on the Rhine has a Swiss movement.

Berlin is to have a big Wilson demonstration as soon as peace is declared. It is hoped to have Col. House.

The Kaiser has quit thinking about Germany's place in the sun, and is looking for something for his boys. Von Kuehlmann, who is none too popular for having boomed the Brest-Litovsk treaty, nevertheless said a good thing at the Crown Council the other day. The Kaiser was lamenting that victory seemed impossible, whereupon Von Kuehlmann said: "No, your majesty. We shall have to substitute something for that, too."

With all their 40 years of preparation the Germans never produced the equal of the American soldier who is taking a few last punches at them before the gong tings. However, we could not say that when we tried to dissuade them from their submarine policy. We could only prove it as the opportunity offered; and we are doing so, thank you. It takes four Germans to whip an American now, and if peace isn't declared by the first of next month it will take six.

Spencer Pledges Support to President to Win War

Republican Senator-Elect, at Office, Says He Will Bend Every Effort to Showing People Their Confidence Has Not Been Misplaced.

Judge Selden P. Spencer, the new Republican United States Senator from Missouri, was in his office in the Boatmen's Bank Building at 9 a. m. today, looking as fresh as the proverbial daisy, though he had not reached his home, 447 Washington boulevard, until after 2 a. m., after spending the greater part of the night at the city hall and Republican State headquarters observing the tabulation of the election returns.

His first expression after the returns had convinced him of his election was: "It shall be the effort of my life to prove to Republicans and Democrats alike that their confidence has not been misplaced."

At his home later he supplemented this by saying: "I am glad to repeat what I said at the beginning of the campaign and that is that the President will have no more cordial support in the winning of this war than he will receive from me."

To Washington in Ten Days.
"We are a united people in this great dominant national purpose and when the war is over our problems of reconstruction will be as vital as ever have been the problems of war."

At his office Spencer told a Post-Dispatch reporter he expected to go to Washington within 10 days to take up his duties in the Senate, relieving Xenophon P. Wilfley, who was appointed by Gov. Gardner when Senator Stone died.

"I was elected to fill a vacancy and I am entitled to my seat as soon as my election has been certified by the Governor of Missouri," said Spencer. "Until then I will continue to serve as chairman of the District Draft Appeals Board."

In reply to a question Judge Spencer said: "I am for woman suffrage."

Says He Is Baseball Fan.
Judge Spencer, when asked as to his personal preferences in the way of recreation, said: "I have several preferences, but in the last few years I have had no time to indulge them. In my rare leisure hours I have had to content myself with being a baseball fan."

The new Senator called attention to the fact that he was the Circuit Judge who decided in 1904 that the ballot boxes should be opened in the suit brought by Eugene McQuillan, contesting the election of Folk as Circuit Attorney.

Decision Reversed.
"Folk appealed from my decision and carried the case to the State Supreme Court," he said, "and the Supreme Court decided the boxes should not be opened. This decision was reversed in a recent contest in an election case, about which my original decision was right."

Judge Spencer long has been known for his fastidiousness in dress.

FATE OF PEOPLES SAFE, CLEMENCEAU DECLARES

Great Ovation when Premier Reads Terms of Armistice With Austria.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 5.—Premier Clemenceau was accorded a wonderful ovation in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday as he read to the Deputies the terms of the armistice with Austria-Hungary.

The terms to Germany," said the Premier, "are what President Wilson himself recommended to us for the security of our troops, the maintenance of our military superiority, and the disarmament of the enemy in so far as that is necessary to prevent a resumption of hostilities."

Clemenceau declared that peace might not be so near as some might think but that he could, however, assure the Chamber that "the fate of the peoples henceforth was fixed."

Prolonged Cheering.
There was prolonged cheering when the Premier announced that the allies had obtained the use of all means of transport in Austria-Hungary.

Clemenceau was hailed as the "father of victory" as he mounted the tribune to announce the terms of the Austrian armistice. The Deputies all stood. The ovation lasted several minutes.

During an address following the reading of the armistice terms there was persistent cheering, especially when the Premier spoke of the approach of full victory, the defeat of Austria-Hungary and the complete glory of France.

The usual Socialist interruptions occurred, but the aged Premier remained unperturbed, defiantly smothering the taunts of the opposition. The Chamber adopted a resolution providing the speech of Clemenceau be posted throughout France.

Prud'homme Verneuil, Councilor.
"What have I done?" said Clemenceau. "It is France that has done it. I have only made the best use I could of the instruments France has given me. The Superior Council at Versailles has drawn up the terms of an armistice with Germany. These were sent yesterday to President Wilson who, if he approves them, will make them known to the imperial and democratic Governments of Germany.

At this point the House burst into laughter.

"It will then be time enough for Germany to address itself to Foch," the Premier added.

It was here that the Premier declared that the terms to Germany were inspired, as were those imposed upon Austria, to prevent a resumption of hostilities in case Germany should break her word.

Karolyi to Open Negotiations With Gen. Diaz.
AMSTERDAM, Tuesday, Nov. 5.—Count Michael Karolyi, with several members of the National Council and the Workers' and Soldiers' Councils, will leave shortly for Padua for the purpose of opening peace negotiations with Gen. Diaz, the Italian Commander in Chief.

The announcement was made in a Budapest dispatch received here.

ALLIED NOTE TELLS CHINA OF SHORTCOMINGS AS ALLY

Failure to Confiscate Enemy Property and Restrict Enemy Enterprises Among Them.

PEKING, Nov. 5.—The British Minister to China, with the concurrence of the other allied legations, has handed informally to the Chinese Foreign Office a memorandum concerning matters in which China is regarded as having been run as an ally. Among the instances mentioned are the following:

The wasting in party quarrels of the Boxer indemnity, remitted for the purpose of fostering industries to enable participation in the war.

Lack of results by the Chinese War Participation Bureau and the diversion of Chinese troops to civil warfare in the South.

The appointment of a papal Minister without consultation, creating an impression of friendship with the enemy.

Failure to confiscate enemy property, to impose restrictions on enemy enterprises and to impose penalties for trading with enemy subjects.

Refusal to retire the Governor-General of Heimo for supporting the enemy and the Bolsheviks in spite of the protests of the allies.

Failure to permit allied Consuls to witness the trials of arrested spies.

The Black Magnet.
FOR once Doctor Miranda had nothing to say. To the eager queries of those about him he returned a grimace and a scowl of rage. Then he asked savagely for Mrs. Quayle.
"There is her necklace," he said indignantly, letting go his hold on that extraordinary piece of jewelry and scrambling to his feet with as much dignity as was left to him.
"Will you tell me what all this means?" demanded Leighton sternly.
"How I know?" retorted Miranda, glaring venomously at him. "I pull the necklace from the neck, and it flies from me. When I follow it it flies faster—and it gets stronger and it flies harder every time until it touches the rock. Then it stops and not come loose."
Sure enough, on the greenish-black rock over which they were bending, the necklace was spread out to its full length. With a quick jerk, Leighton dislodged one of the ends from its resting place. Letting it go, it returned to its original position with the sharp snap of a steel spring.
"A magnet! The most amazing magnet ever heard of!" exclaimed Leighton.
"A magnet that pull gold!" scoffed Miranda. "That is the foolishness!"
But Leighton was right. Each time the necklace was pulled away it was drawn back to the rock by a strong, invisible force. Repeated trials brought the same result. Leighton's curiosity was excited as it had never been before; but his most careful examination of the strange phenomenon failed to detect anything more than the fact that the substance exercising this unknown force was not one but something more nearly akin to metal. It was neither so heavy nor so hard as iron. To the touch its surface faintly resembled the adhesive softness of velvet, although a blow from a stone, causing a clear, ringing sound, left not the slightest mark upon it. In the man, this block of metal—or whatever it might be called—was a deep black, tinged with a variegated shade of green that played over it according to the angle at which the ray from a light held above it was reflected. Dark lines of green followed the indentations traversing its surface. Cylindrical in shape, it weighed, at least to Leighton's estimate, at least a ton. He decided in his mind that the center was a rope measuring two inches in diameter, of pliable fiber, resembling the long lianas that festoon the trees of a tropical forest. The rope projected a semicircular coil on the ground, with a further end attached to the transverse beam of the scaffolding overhead.
"It is a magnet, nothing else," retorted Leighton. "A magnet of a kind utterly unknown to science. All we can say is that this black metal has an affinity for gold—unless it turns out that Mrs. Quayle's jewelry is merely iron gilt. The genuineness of the housekeeper's treasures was promptly denied, however, by Una, who guaranteed their sterling quality.
"Let us test the rest of her jewelry," proposed Leighton.
To this further demand on her property Mrs. Quayle, wedged in between two rocks on the path where they had left her, too terrified to move, offered only a feeble protest. It mattered little to her in her present condition, if her bracelets and brooch followed the necklace to their doom. One by one they were, accordingly, removed by Una, who, probably because she was not as estimable than Miranda—and because, too, she had profited by his untoward experience in the same undertaking—was able to handle these pieces of jewelry without mishap. The force with which they were pulled toward the Black Magnet, however, and the tenacity with which they stuck to it, gave ample evidence that they answered to the same influence that held the necklace.
"That is enough," said Leighton triumphantly. "The thing is proved. It is a gold magnet. If we lived in Middle Ages we would call it the philosopher's Stone. The theory of such a substance exists has attracted scientists who were more given to dreaming than practical observation. In this age we have neither looked for it nor believed in the possibility of its existence. And here it is!"
"What it make here?" demanded Miranda. "Tied by a rope to the machine—someone use it?"
The inference, logical enough, certainly, increased Leighton's excitement. That the magnet was known and used by the inhabitants of the cave—if there were inhabitants—was evident. Under certain conditions a bar of metal that could attract gold with such force as that displayed by the Black Magnet would be of untold value. Here, where there were no evidences of mining operations, and attached to this primitive machine, before testing this claim what it was actually used for.
EIGHTY, more and more mystified, determined that the best way to solve the puzzle was to operate the machine in the manner indicated by its structure. It was not, as he pointed out—but as they in their first excitement imagined—yellow. Instead, it was a winch, built in the most simple and archaic fashion; and as the Black Magnet was attached to it, the evident purpose was to hoist that huge body from the ground. Before testing this theory, Mrs. Quayle, who had recovered from her collapse sufficiently to join the others, insisted that her jewelry should be released from the magnet. Suspicious of the intentions of some of her companions, she was determined to regain possession of her treasures at once. But as it was

Diet and Health

With Key to the Calories

A Jolly Scientific Book - - By Lulu Hunt Peters, AB., M. D.

THE ART OF GETTING EITHER FAT OR THIN—Chapter 3.

Now We Get Down to Some Regular Scientific Stuff, but It Isn't Really Hard Unless You Take It That Way.

REVIEW AND MORE DEFINITIONS.

This Is Dry body, builds and repairs tissues and yields energy in heat and muscular power.

CLASSES OF FOOD:

Approx. %s
If Normal.
1. Protein, 15% of body weight.
2. Fats, 15% of body weight.
3. Carbohydrates, 1% of body weight.
4. Mineral matter, 5% of body weight.
5. Vitamins.

PROTEIN: Builds tissue, repairs energy, and may help store fat. One-fifth of the protein should be from the vegetable kingdom.

Nitrogenous Foodstuffs: A large percentage of protein is contained in Eggs, Meat, Poultry, Fish, Milk, Cheese, Gluten of Wheat, Legumes (beans, peas, lentils, peanuts, etc.). There is about one-fourth ounce protein in CARBOHYDRATES: Yield energy and stored as fat. Sugars (candy, honey, syrup, sweet fruits) Starches (breads, cereals, potatoes, corn, legumes, nuts, Vegetable fiber, or cellulose)

MINERAL MATTER: Shares in forming bones and teeth, and necessary for proper functioning.

Whole Grain Products Not Devitalized.
These elements are contained largely in the outer coatings of grains, fruits and vegetables and in animal foods and their products. Do not pare potatoes before cooking. Cook vegetables in a small amount of water, saving the water for soups and sauces.

WATER: The universal solvent, absolutely necessary for life.

Contained in purest form in all vegetables and fruits. The average person needs, in addition to the five pints taken as a drink, if not sure of the purity, boil. Do not drink while food is in the mouth.

VITAMINS: Health preservers. Vital substances necessary for growth. The chemistry of these products is at present not thoroughly understood, but their importance has been demonstrated by experiments (not torture) on animals. By this work we know that diseases like beriberi, scurvy, rickets, and probably pellagra, are due to a lack of these vital elements in the food, and from that fact are called "deficiency" diseases.

Of course, I realize that nations can be saved from horrible diseases and hundreds of thousands of babies saved from death, through this experimentation on a few guinea pigs and other animals; but what is the life of a baby compared with the happiness of a guinea pig? Down with animal experimentation! Let us do everything in our power to hamper scientific work of this kind. We are giving up our husbands, fathers, sons, perhaps to die, for the cause of humanity, but a guinea pig! Horrors!

Guinea Pigs vs. Babies.
Apparently impossible to wear her jewelry with comfort, or even safety, in the immediate vicinity of the Black Magnet, necklace, brooch and bracelets were removed to a distant corner of the corridor and there placed beneath a pile of stones. This done, the four men started to work the two long handles of the winch. At first these were turned with difficulty, the resistance proving, at least to Leighton's satisfaction, that the machine had not been used for a long time. Gradually, however, the coil of liana was transferred from the ground to the transverse beam overhead until it pulled taut with the magnet beneath.

Then came the real test of strength. The magnet wouldn't budge. Miranda puffed and grumbled over the task, declaring it impossible. The rest stopped and rubbed their arms ruefully. But Leighton was inexorable. Encouraging the others, and keeping them at it by dint of increased exertion, to which Una brought additional assistance—the great Black Magnet was finally dragged from its moorings and held suspended just above the ground. It formed a perfect cylinder, about four feet long by a foot and a half in diameter, and must have weighed, they estimated, considerably over a ton—ten tons, vowed Miranda. On a winch of modern design this weight would not have been difficult to lift. But the hoisting apparatus they were using lacked the ordinary adjustments for counterbalancing such weights; hence, the muscular force needed proved no small matter.

"It take 20 men to lift this magnet," growled Miranda.

"Twenty men could do it more easily than four men and a woman, undoubtedly," replied Leighton. "But four can do it."

And he was right. Inch by inch the magnet rose from the ground—very clear, any more than that it was, in their first excitement, imagined—yellow. Instead, it was a winch, built in the most simple and archaic fashion; and as the Black Magnet was attached to it, the evident purpose was to hoist that huge body from the ground. Before testing this theory, Mrs. Quayle, who had recovered from her collapse sufficiently to join the others, insisted that her jewelry should be released from the magnet. Suspicious of the intentions of some of her companions, she was determined to regain possession of her treasures at once. But as it was

It has been found that the vitamins, like the minerals, are most abundant in the outer coverings and the germ of grains, and in fruits and vegetables. They are also present in fresh milk, butter, meat and eggs. Bacteria fed pasteurized or boiled milk should have fruit juices and vegetable purées early. Begin with one-half teaspoonful, well diluted, and gradually increase the feeding to an ounce or more between meals once or twice daily.

Most animal fats have the vitamins, but vegetable fats are deficient in them. This is the reason cod liver oil is better for some therapeutic uses than olive oil.

BALANCED DIET: Should contain 10-15% Protein (children may need more)

Balanced Diet.
25-30% Fat
60-65% Carbohydrates

For example, suppose you are a fairly active woman and need 2500 calories per day. Then for a balanced diet you would need:

10% Protein, or 250 C.
25% Fat, or 625 C.
65% Carbohydrates 1625 C.
2500 C.

To Get the Elements Necessary for Health.
250 C. of P. equals 2-1.5 ounces dry protein (250 divided by 113 equals 2-1.5, approximately)

625 C. of F. equals 2 1/2 ounces of fat (625 divided by 255 equals 2 1/2, approximately)

1625 C. of CH. equal 14 1/2 ounces dry carbohydrates (1625 divided by 113 equals 14 1/2, approximately)

Two and one-half ounces dry protein equals the approximate amount of protein in 10 ounces of lean meat, fish or fowl, or 9 ounces cheese, or 9 eggs. (You should not take all of your protein in any one of these single forms.) Two and one-half ounces fat equals approximately 5 pats of butter.

But listen! You don't have to bother with all this fussy stuff. Be careful not to over or under-eat of the proteins, and your tastes will be a fair standard for the rest. You should remember that a balanced diet contains some of all these foods in about the proportions given, and that, while watery vegetables and fruits contain very few calories, they contain very important mineral salts, vitamins and cellulose. The latter is good for the daily scrub of the intestinal tract.

CONSTIPATION is many times caused by a too concentrated diet, or one containing too little roughage. It has also been discussed with faulty elimination.

A Pretty Nearly Universal Error. covered that some individuals who are troubled with faulty elimination digest this cellulose, and only the more resistant, like bran, is not absorbed. For those, the Japanese seaweed called agaragar in the laboratory, but more familiarly known as agar by the layman, is excellent. The most industrious tract apparently cannot digest that. It has the same property of absorbing a large amount of water, thus increasing its bulk.

Mineral oils (refined paraffine) also are not absorbable, and they act with benefit in some cases. About the worst thing to do, in general, is to take physics constantly. These are not physics, however; they act mechanically. Even the C. S. (common-sense) individual can take these. The agar may be taken two or three heaping teaspoonsful in a large glass of water before retiring, or in the morning before breakfast, or in lieu of a 4 o'clock tea. Drink it down rapidly—for goodness' sake, don't try to chew it.

Mineral oil will make fine mayonnaise dressing. It has little or no food value, so the constipated overweight individual may indulge free. For faulty elimination, then—

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.
1. Correct diet.
2. Exercise—especially brisk walking.
3. Regularity of habit.
4. Possibly the addition of bran, agar or mineral oils.
5. Sweet disposition. Men people are always constipated.

REVIEW.
1. Give classes of food, with examples of each.
2. What are vitamins? How importance discovered?

mechanism in the scaffolding had been set free. After which a strange thing happened. The transverse beam at the top of the windlass detached itself from one of the uprights supporting it and, using the other upright as fulcrum, slowly swung to the wall of the cave, where it rested in a socket, bringing the magnet that was suspended from it, directly over a shelf-like projection beneath.

"Keep on! Keep on!" cried Leighton encouragingly. "Now we will see."

Thoroughly aroused, the others redoubled their exertions. The magnet remained stationary for a few seconds, the liana supporting it tightening with every revolution of the drumhead at which the men were laboring. Then it slowly disappeared downward, the liana uncoiling itself, thus reversing the movement that before had carried it upward. There was a gradual increase in the momentum of its descent, followed by the splashing sound caused by the impact of a heavy body upon the surface of a pool of water; after which the liana was paid out until it reached its full length—when it suddenly slackened and came to a full stop.

"There, Mrs. Quayle, is your water," announced Leighton.

"Water?" eagerly echoed a voice from the darkness behind them.

"Say, rather, there is the secret of Guatavita!"

"Raoul Arthur!" exclaimed the others.

Letting go the handle of the windlass, they rushed to the spot where the Black Magnet vanished. "There at one side of the rocky projection, stood Raoul, pale and haggard, the light in his lamp extinguished.

"I suspected this," he said, as if his sudden disappearance among them were the most natural thing in the world. "I knew from the direction of the path that it led back to the lake. I have been trying to reach this place for years. Oh, yes! I had heard something about it before. I don't deny that. But, of course, I expected to stay by you. So, when you started to leave the cave I came back, expecting to rejoin you. As I was examining the machine I was attacked by two men, thrown to the ground and left unconscious. I came to myself a few minutes ago—in time to congratulate you, it seems, upon solving the mystery of the cave."

"That is strange," said Leighton

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT

BY MRS. F. A. WALKER.

The Land of Fulfilled Wishes.

"I WANT five dollars, father," said Jack one morning at the breakfast table. "I want some new skates and a pair of gloves, and I need some carfare, too."

"Five dollars," said his father, "does not grow on every bush, my son, and I think your old skates will do for this winter; your gloves were new only last week. Why do you want new ones?"

"I want some like Charlie Jones; mine are not leather like his," said Jack.

"You will have to use them this winter," said his father, "and, my son, if you had all the things you desire what would you have to look forward to? I will give you some change for car fares, but the other things you do not need."

Jack looked after his father with a frown and said to his mother, "I don't see why I cannot have things like the other boys. I think father might let me have the gloves and skates."

"You have a great deal now," replied his mother. "You would find it dull, I think, if all your desires were granted. The Land of Fulfilled Wishes would be a dull place to live in."

Just then it began to snow so hard that Jack had to give up his skating and, taking a book, he went into the library to read before the open fire.

After a while he began to think about what his father and mother had said. "I just bet I would not find it dull to live where I had everything for which I wished," he said.

"Come with me and see," said a voice close to his ear. "Come with me to the Land of Fulfilled Wishes and we will see how you like it."

The next instant Jack found himself sailing over the tops of buildings, which looked like toy houses. He never could think how he got out of the house, for all he remembered was sailing through the air and how little the objects below looked to him.

"Here we are," said the goblin, as they dropped into a big garden. Now run along and have a good time if you can. This is the Land of Fulfilled Wishes, and all you have to do is to wish and it is yours."

Before Jack could reply the goblin was gone and Jack looked around him to find all the trees were made of candy, with fruit hanging from them.

He began to eat until he could hold no more and then thought of the skates he had wanted. There they were right on his feet. Then he wanted a place to skate on and he was on a pond without moving from where he had stood.

Around and around he skated until he was cold and tired. "I wish I had a horse and sleigh," thought Jack.

QUICK as the thought came the sleigh and a beautiful black horse with silver bells on its harness.

But Jack grew tired of that and he wished for a horse with a saddle and a new riding suit. There he was on the horse, but even horseback riding bored him after a while and he wished he was eating his dinner.

Instantly he found himself at a table with all kinds of food, that boys love and this time he was sure he would not grow tired of the grand wish, but he did, for of course he could not keep on eating.

"I wish I owned a menagerie," thought Jack, "then I could sit and watch"—but there it was right before him.

The lion roared and the other animals made such a noise that soon he wished for a quiet place to rest a little, thought Jack.

He was swinging in a hammock under two big trees and all was so still he jumped up to see where he was.

"I am thirsty," he thought, and

Wrap Trimmings With Monkey Fur

Designed by Helen Lodewick.

THIS winter we will see fur used extensively for outer garments, and the styles present more varied effects than we have been privileged to choose from for many a year. The short Eton jacket, the hip coat that is either straight or boxlike or full and flaring; the cape, which may reach only to the waistline or as much longer as one's mind and purse dictate—all these styles are as smart as one as the other.

Fur, however, is expensive and many are the imitations for fashion's sake. The designer has designed to take its place. But most women prefer the real thing when they use fur, even if on account of its price they must use less of it than they would like. For this reason I have designed the modish wrap shown here, which employs fur but sparingly, and chooses a soft woolen material, heavily interlined, for the main portion.

This wrap is as near a cape as it is a coat, having no real fit except around the neck. It is cut on kimono lines, and though it has sleeves, they are short, because the shoulder line is so very long, thus when one folds the arms in front, in order to tuck finger tips into sleeves, it is fastened in front with a fancy metal or celluloid ornament. Dark blue or brown are the most practical colors.

up jumped from the ground somewhere a glass of sparkling water and flow to his lips.

Jack almost choked, it was all so sudden. "This Wishing Land is too much for me," he said. "You don't have a chance to think of anything before it is here. I believe mother was right. I wish I was back in my own land and home."

"Jack, Jack," said his mother, "the sun is out. You have plenty of time for skating before lunch. Why, you were as sound asleep as if it were night time."

"Yes, I know I was," said Jack, rubbing his eyes. "I was dreaming I lived in that place you spoke about at the breakfast table."

"Where was that?" asked his mother, for she had forgotten all about the talk they had.

"The Land of Fulfilled Wishes," said Jack, "and you were right, mother. There is not the least bit of fun getting everything you wish for. I'd rather live here."

His mother laughed at what he told her about his dream. "It would not bring happiness, I am sure, if we all had everything for which we wished," she said. "Now run along."

The right way to shampoo

How this treatment helps your hair

Do you think your hair grows from the head like a plant? No, indeed. There is a fundamental difference.

For your hair does not breathe as does a plant. No vital fluid circulates through it as does the sap in the plant. Except at the very tips of its roots, hair has no more life than a silken thread.

To keep your hair lovely and abundant you must, by the proper treatment, keep your scalp healthy and vigorous.

Is your hair dull and lifeless? It can be made rich and lustrous. Is it greasy, oily, or dry and brittle? You can correct the condition which prevents the tiny oil glands from emitting just the right amount of oil to keep your hair soft and silky.

Try this famous shampoo

Before shampooing, rub the scalp thoroughly with the tips of the fingers (not the finger nails) making the scalp itself move in little circles. This loosens the dead cells and particles of dust and dandruff that clog up the pores.

Now dip the hair in warm water, separate it into small parts and scrub the scalp with a toothbrush lathered with Woodbury's Facial Soap. Rub the lather in well, then rinse it out.

Next apply a thick, hot lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap, and leave it on for two or three minutes. Clear off with fresh, warm water, finishing with cold water. Dry very thoroughly. You will enjoy the healthy, active feeling it gives your scalp. You will soon see the improvement in your hair—how much richer and softer it is.

For ten or twelve shampoos, you will find the 25c cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap sufficient, for a month or six weeks of any of the famous facial treatments and for general cleansing use. Get a cake today. Woodbury's is for sale at drug stores and toilet goods counters everywhere throughout the United States and Canada. The Rumor That Cobb Was Shelled by the Germans Has All the Ear-marks of a Fake.

PIKEWAY VARSITY SQUAD AGAIN HIT HARD BY INJURIES

Three More Men Hurt in Practice, Yesterday; Other Cripples on Side Lines.

16 MEN OUT IN 10 DAYS

Cobb May Not Attempt to Use Regulars Against Drake University Saturday.

By John E. Wray.

Give Jinx a few more punches at that Francis Field football squad and Coach Rutherford's Washington eleven may be cut down to the size of the weak Drake University team, scheduled to appear here Saturday in a valley conference championship battle.

All week Old Man Jinx has whittled away at the squad and last night he amputated three more from the "red and green" effective. The three men injured yesterday were Neher, who is being coached on a second-string halfback; Sauls, a first substitute guard, and Grisedieck, a regular halfback. Neher was kicked in the back, accidentally, when downed following a long run; Sauls fractured a thumb while scrambling against the first guard, and Grisedieck injured his leg.

These misfortunes to Rutherford's team followed a series of accidents which at least temporarily has prevented the playing of Feuerborn, regular end; Decker, regular tackle; Krahe, regular guard, and Berger, captain and regular halfback. Besides these, Simpson was not in uniform yesterday, he, with three members of the medical school, being sick from the effects of a typhoid "shot."

Rutherford's Reserves Weakened. Added to this is the recent and permanent loss of five members of the varsity squad, who were sent to Camp Taylor. In all, 16 effective are out. The grand total is enough to shake the confidence of any coach. Rutherford is caving those cripples who have a chance to round to form for Saturday's game, by keeping them out of scrimmage work. Decker, Krahe, Feuerborn and others watched the affair from the side lines.

Several new players appeared on the field yesterday, among them a much needed backfield luminary, Pinkie, a husky former star from East St. Louis High School. He weighs 165 pounds and showed fair form in practice.

Bailey, a 185-pound man, a former Westminster College player, is also now with the squad. Another promising piece of avoidable loss is Rist, who was worked out, Monday.

Despite his weakened squad, Rutherford has no doubt of the outcome of the contest with Drake which recently lost to Grinnell College by a 17-0 score.

Potthoff Seeks Great Lakes Game. Boise Potthoff of Great Lakes Station, a former captain of Washington University, was a visitor at Francis Field yesterday, he being in the city on a furlough with Dean Leffler, a former high school star now also stationed at Great Lakes.

Potthoff gave one look at the Washington squad and opened his eyes. "This is the best looking bunch of men Washington ever owned," he commented. "If coach doesn't lose too many players, he ought to have a great team."

Potthoff is here representing Great Lakes and seeking a contest for Dec. 7 with Washington University. Potthoff conferred with Rutherford yesterday regarding the possibility of a contest.

"I believe that either Washington or St. Louis U. this year could give Great Lakes a beating. The team is not a first-class eleven right now, but it has some fine material."

Tigers-Piker Game May Be Postponed. Coach Rutherford today stated that the Washington-Missouri game scheduled for Nov. 17 at Columbia, Mo., may have to be shifted on account of the upward trend of the influenza in the university city.

"We are unable at this time to make certain about this game. If the ban is put on in Columbia, we will postpone the contest to Dec. 7. We have no other open day available, as we meet the Scott Field Aviators on Nov. 23 and St. Louis U. Thanksgiving day."

Saturday's Benefit Game in Jeopardy. Washington and Drake will positively play their scheduled game at Francis Field, Saturday, according to Rutherford. The event, however, will be rendered useless as a benefit affair, unless the ban on public gatherings is lifted.

Rutherford stated today that the contest would be played in private, unless the St. Louis Health Department decided to lift the embargo on football games, during the influenza epidemic.

The receipts from this event were to have been given to the United War Work fund, if conditions permitted an open gate to the public.

Simpson Is Suffering From "Charley Horse." Ever Simpson, Washington's All-Western quarterback, will be one of several regulars to be kept out of Saturday's game, in all probability. Rutherford this morning stated that he would not have a chance on any of his regulars, this week.

Simpson, who was on the side lines, yesterday, went to the hospital last night to have his leg treated for "charley horse," which he first suffered during last Saturday's game. He did not complain but played through out the afternoon against Holla. He

Take Him Out!

Yes, Frunella, Kaiser Willie. Of the war has had enough. Though he'd give us the impression he had something up his cuff. He is only bluffing, dearie. For he knows that he is through; But he'd like to keep on Kalsing. For another year or two.

Wilhelm thought he was some pumpkins. And perhaps he was at that. Till he kicked the brick, Prunella. Under Uncle Sammy's hat. When he made that fatal blunder. Kaiser Wilhelm stubbed his toe; Or, in other words, my dearie, That was when he crabbed the show.

Uncle Sam was very patient. Till they kicked him on the shin; Then he started to get busy. When they tried to rub it in. Patience ceased to be a virtue. When he saw his nephews slain; So, our Uncle sent an army Over there across the main.

Let us, then, be up and doing. With a heart for any fate; Still achieving, still pursuing, Till we make no abdicate. Uncle Sammy packs a wallop. That would fella a stall-fed ox; When he toed the plate our Uncle Knocked the Kaiser from the box.

Wilhelm was an Alexander. And a Johnson rolled in one; He was betting that the Yankees Would not score a single run. Everything looked bright and cheery. Till he got the fatal clout; Then his people, growing weary, Started yelling: "Take him out!"

No Alibi. After training for 40 years, Kaiser Bill can't say he wasn't in condition. We're bound to have some kind of ball in this man's town, be it high, Phil, foot or base.

Between the Yanks and the tanks and one thing or another the dachshund is leading a dog's life these days.

Lo, the Poor Ump. After the world has been made safe for democracy, how about the umpires? The League of Nations should pass a rule making it a misdemeanor to kill an umpire.

There is absolutely no excuse for killing an umpire. That is, unless he makes an unusually rotten decision against the home team.

Waiting. The German people are anxiously waiting for a note from the Kaiser signed Wilhelm I. R., meaning "I resign."

They'll have to hock the Kaiser and all the crown jewels to help pay that war debt.

For St. Louis: decidedly wet until further notice.

has not been in football uniform since. Of the men hurt yesterday, Rutherford this morning said that Neher had received a painful injury, one that might keep him out for some days. He was kicked in the lumbar region and painfully injured. No fractures were found. Neher suffered considerable misery during the examination given him on the field immediately after his injury.

HIGH SCHOOL COACHES PREDICT CLOSE RACE

Mentors Believe Any One of Five Elevens Has Chance for Title.

High school football elevens, idle for almost three weeks because of the influenza ban, will again be in good condition to start the season providing they are granted permission to play Saturday. Whether the title race will begin this week depends entirely upon the lifting of the ban, as one of the officials already has stated that the teams will not exhibit behind closed gates, and with the public barred.

Also, it will be well far as can be determined from the appearance of the respective teams and the opinions of coaches, will be one of the closest in the history of the interscholastic League. Soldan and Central seem destined to fight it out for first place, with the other teams, including McKinley are by no means out of it.

All the squads indulged in snappy practices yesterday and the coaches expressed satisfaction both with the material and condition of the athletes. Soldan particularly impresses observers, perhaps because Coach Cook possesses the heaviest eleven in high school circles.

Too much stress apparently is being laid upon the loss of Capt. Wood at Central. While Wood is a capable player and unquestionably will be missed, Coach Walker's eleven is far from wrecked and there is small doubt that the mid-city mentor will be able to develop a capable man to fill the fullback position.

Also, it will be well to bear McKinley in mind when taking stock of high school championship chances. Coach Crosby is saying very little, but it will be remembered that last year he had an eleven which he admitted early in the season, could hardly hope for much, yet won the title. Coach Crosby, asked for a statement about his team's chances, merely pointed to their 1917 record.

If games are permitted Saturday, Central and Soldan should furnish the feature battle. Cleveland and Yeatman in the other contest, McKinley being idle.

COURSES FOR SERVICE AND JUNIOR MARATHONS HAVE BEEN MEASURED

Thomas G. Watts Jr., former president of the Western Division of the A. A. U., who is aiding in the handling of the events to be held here "Sports week," Nov. 11 to 16, stated today that the courses for both the junior marathon, Nov. 14, and the service cross-country championship event had been measured.

The course for the junior run from Blair Monument to Twelfth street is 3.7-10 miles, while if the cross-country event is run through Forest Park over the lower road at the Art Museum, the distance will be exactly 6 miles, according to Watts.

Complaint has been made that because of the influenza quarantine school boys fear that they will be unable to enter the junior race.

DEAN LEFFLER IS HOME ON TEN-DAY FURLOUGH

Dean Leffler, former McKinley High School football, track and basketball star, who is now coach and captain of the Public Works eleven at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station arrived home on a 10-day furlough yesterday. Leffler's team has played seven games and won them all. Loren Murchison and Early Whiteley are two other St. Louisans on the team.

Benny McGovern After Pikeaway Boxing Berth

BENNY MCGOVERN, the local featherweight boxer, was in conference with the Washington University athletic authorities yesterday afternoon, and as a result the announcement of his appointment as Boxing Instructor to the Student Army Training Corps may follow.

McGovern's application was taken under advisement, after the conference, and it was said that a favorable reply was probable. McGovern made the trip to Francis Field with Boise Potthoff, formerly captain of the Washington University football eleven, who is in the city trying to arrange a game between the Great Lakes and the University teams.

DEMPSEY AND LEVINSKY IN SHORT GO TONIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Jack Dempsey, because of his better record, is expected to outpoint Battling Levinsky in their 6-round bout which is scheduled to be held here tonight. Both boxers are said to be in tip-top condition. The battle has been postponed several times because of the influenza quarantine.

STARKLOFF REFUSES TO SANCTION GAME HERE

Billikens' Plan to Aid War Work Fund Saturday May Be Abandoned.

St. Louis University's hopes of aiding the United War Work Fund through donation of the gate receipts of the football game scheduled with Sewanee here Saturday, apparently are doomed to disappointment through the refusal of Health Commissioner Starkloff to modify the present influenza quarantine regulations.

"We had 66 deaths reported yesterday," Dr. Starkloff said, "and while the number of new cases showed a slight decrease, it does not warrant the belief that we are out of danger. There is no way I can think of to prevent a crowd gathering at a football game, hence I will hold out no hope whatever that the regulations will be changed in any manner. Of course, later in the week, I may see the situation differently. So far as I know, quarantine regulations haven't been modified anywhere to permit of football games."

Secretary of Navy Asked to Sanction Soccer Game Here

D. R. JOHN B. KAUFFMAN, Director of Athletics at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, yesterday informed Winton E. Barker, president of the St. Louis Soccer League, he was unable to send the Great Lakes soccer eleven here for a game Sunday, Nov. 17, to assist the United War Work fund.

Dr. Kauffman explained that the Secretary of the Navy has ruled no naval athletic team can participate in a sports event on Sunday where admission is charged. He said he would be glad to send the team here on any other date.

President Barker then wired Secretary of the Navy Daniels asking him for a special sanction for the game. He expects a reply today.

CHARLIE SWAIN IS DEAD

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 6.—Charlie Swain, baseball player, died yesterday of influenza. Until Ping Bodie came along Swain's 34 home runs was the season's record. He played with the Washington Americans and with Sacramento and Vancouver on the coast.

MISKE OFFERS TO BOX AT COLISEUM BENEFIT

St. Paul Heavyweight Fighter Wires His Willingness to Oppose Anyone.

Billy Miske, the only heavyweight fighter to hold "One Round" Jack Dempsey safe for 10 rounds, has telegraphed the War Camp Community Service Committee of this city that he is willing to box at the proposed War Work benefit carnival at the Coliseum, Nov. 18, against any opponent that may be selected for him.

The local committee is endeavoring to obtain a suitable opponent for Miske, but most of the prominent light heavyweights, including Jack Dempsey, are either unavailable or bespoken, for the "sports week" campaign which is on Nov. 11 to Nov. 18. Jack Dillon, the "Giant Killer," has been queried as to his willingness to oppose Miske, but the committee has as yet received no reply. Miske and Dempsey fought 10 rounds at St. Paul, some months ago, and at the end Dempsey was given an unofficial "shade." Dempsey has knocked out most of his opponents in less than one round, including Fred Fulton.

ST. LOUIS GIRLS WILL COMPETE IN TANK MEET IN INDIANAPOLIS NOV. 15

Final arrangements for five local girl swimmers to compete in an inter-city meet in Indianapolis, Nov. 15, were completed yesterday by Vera Lacy, chairman of the Registration Committee of the Western A. A. U. The local stars to make the trip will be the Misses Grace Stewart, Irene Fortune, Adeline Jarvis, Evelyn Reids and Ethel Tittsworth.

The meet will be a dual against the Independent A. C. of Indianapolis, which will be represented by Miss Theima Darby, former National A. A. U. half-mile champion; Regina Reids, Ida Drosdowicz, Minna Margaret Lowder and Mrs. Alvin Kinder.

In the coming event, Miss Stewart probably will be relied upon in the longer distances, and Miss Tittsworth in the diving contest. Miss Fortune is the present Municipal Association sprint champion. A relay race also is on the program.

WEBSTER TO PLAY ALTON

Webster High School and Alton High School will meet this afternoon at Webster in a football game, according to an announcement by Coach Roberts of the former school. The game will be played behind locked gates and has been sanctioned by the authorities. Roberts said.
